on March 14, 2019 at 11:00AM

After 72 years of fighting for the right to vote, it was finally won in 1920. In this program, you will meet 3 generations of dynamic women, suffragists who worked for women’s rights throughout the country. The story unfolds to reveal loyalties, alliances, opposition, political intrigue, arrests, torture and finally, a dramatic conclusion.

The presentation includes an entertaining narrative, with articles and speeches read by different voices, all in period costume; as well as audience participation and music. A slide show of photos and memorabilia accompanies this interactive program.

Connie Korenstein is a retired educator who devotes her time to historic research, tours, living history presentations, historic fashion consulting and community events. She has a collection of historical characters that she has researched and portrays in costume, sometimes solo and sometimes with a cast of other characters. Connie is a docent at Heritage Square and the Channel Islands Maritime Museum in Oxnard, as well as the Dudley House in Ventura.
